SOME MORE KIDNAPPING.

A Kentucky Farmer Says His Divorced Wife Has Taken His Children.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 1.—Joseph McCann, a farmer of this county, charges that his former wife, now Mrs. J. Walter Peake, of Chattanooga, Tenn., wife of the Senator from the Chattanooga district in the Tennessee Legislature, kidnapped his two boys, aged 8 and 9, here last Sunday and took them to Chattanooga.

Senator and Mrs. Peake came to Lexington ten days ago to visit Mrs. Adams. McCann claims that according to agreement he brought the two children to Lexington last week to remain a few days with their mother. Since the divorce the children have been with McCann's mother. He came for the children Sunday and says he learns Mrs. Peake has taken the children to Chattanooga. Mrs. Peake secured a divorce from McCann in 1887. Mr. Peake was then an attorney here and represented Mrs. McCann in the case. They were married shortly after the divorce and lived in Tennessee. McCann married Miss Howard, of this county, three weeks ago.

THE BOYS ARE MERELY VISITING IN CHATTANOOGA.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Jan. 1.—State Senator J. Walter Peake, of this city, denies emphatically the story from Lexington, Ky., charging his wife with kidnapping the two children of her divorced husband and bringing them to this city. He states that Mrs. Peake arrived here last Saturday from Lexington, where she had been visiting and brought the children with her, but only from a visit and not with any intention of detaining them. He adds that the children have visited his wife before and that their guardian has never objected to it. The children are here now for a month's visit.

ANOTHER KIDNAPPING.

Boy Carried Off in Broad Day Light, Within a Few Feet of His Home.

Bethlehem, Pa., Dispatch to Philadelphia Record.

In broad day light, within a few feet of his home, and close to the street, 12-year-old Charles Kerschner was kidnapped today. A younger brother was a terrified witness of the deed.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Kerschner, live on Fairview street. At 4 o'clock this afternoon Charles and his brother went out to the end of the lot in the rear of the house to feed the chickens. While thus engaged Charles was seized by a stranger who had hidden in the alley behind the fence at the end of the lot. A bag of cloth was thrown over the boy's head. Then the kidnappers hurried away with the lad and placed him in a buggy which was held in readiness further down the street by an accomplice in waiting.

The younger brother ran into the house and gave the alarm. Mrs. Kerschner at once notified police headquarters. Telegrams and telephone messages have been sent out in all directions and people are volunteering to go in pursuit of the kidnappers whenever a trace of them can be obtained.

Picking Up Dividends.

New York, Jan. 2.—The wealthy fellows are all rushing around picking up their dividends, which are paid today by banks, incorporated companies more or less of trustful character, railroads, canal companies, states and national governments. Some of these fortunate ones have so many matters of interest to gather in that they are reported to use steam coupon-cutters, which have to work overtime at that. The sums paid out of profits today is very heavy. The first of the year is the heaviest dividend period in the year. The first of July divides on some classes of investments, but others distribute only on the first of January. It is fortunate that these rapid means of locomotion have been invented, else the millionaires couldn't get in all their money on time.

Chicago's Big Cat Show.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—The National Fan-club's Association, the Chicago Pet Dog Club and the Beresford Cat Club, opened the largest exhibition they have ever held in the Coliseum today. It will continue until January 26. The prizes amount to $15,000 in cash. Some of the finest animals in the country are here, besides many foreign exhibits.

BEGGAR'S HOUSE FOUND FULL.

HAVE DONE A THRIVING BUSINESS SOMETIME.

A Discovery Made of the Store House of Some Professional Mendicants.

For some time a family of beggars, who lived near the Revolution Mills, but not a part of the mill help, have been making a systematic begging campaign in the city. They have kept it up several weeks, all the time reporting that they had been working at the mill but had been sick. They certainly received a good deal. The Telegram is informed that a day or two ago they applied for help to some employee of the mill. He went over to the house to see them, and found all the children barefooted and the old man sick in bed. He took measures of the children's feet to supply them shoes, and sent a doctor to see the sick one. When the doctor got there he found that the old man was not sick. This led to an investigation, which disclosed the fact that the house was a regular store house of provisions and clothing which had been collected during the systematic course of begging of weeks.

Some time ago The Telegram was, with others, imposed upon by either those or other professional beggars, and did one of the mills an injustice by saying that there were some among its people not cared for. A prompt correction, however, was made when the facts were known.

Funeral of Mrs. Ellington

The funeral of Mrs. M. A. J. Ellington, an account of whose death appeared in yesterday's Telegram, took place from West Market church this morning at 11 o'clock. The services were conducted by Rev. L. W. Crawford, and the remains laid to rest in Greene Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Ellington was seventy-six years old and had for twenty years been a consistent member of West Market church. She was a woman of rare christian grace, and throughout her long illness she was never heard to murmur that the hand of Providence had been laid heavily upon her. Mrs. Ellington was an aunt of Messrs. M. S. and T. D. Sherwood, and a sister of Mrs. M. Jordan.

To Instruct a Band.

Mr. F. O. Lawson, who has made Greensboro his home for several years has accepted a position as instructor of a band in Wadesboro, and left today to take charge of the band. Mr. Lawson, aside from being a musician of no mean ability, has had considerable experience in band work, and will doubtless make a success in his new field.

Talk Regarding the Chief Justiceship.

The lawyers are talking much regarding Governor Russell's probable action in the appointment of a successor to the late Chief Justice Faircloth. A petition is being circulated for signatures of the members of the bar asking for the appointment of Judge Robinson to the associate justiceship in case Justice Furches is promoted to the chief justiceship.

Realty Deal.

The building now occupied by the office of the Southern Express Company was sold this morning by the Southern Loan & Trust Company to Mr. J. R. Coble.

A Boy Kills His Father's Antagonist.

Eatonton, Ga., Jan. 1.—Will Turk, a boy 17 years of age, today shot and killed Kimball Aiken, near here. Thomas Turk, a prosperous country merchant, was engaged in a fight with Aiken, also a prosperous merchant, when he called on his young son, Will, to shoot Aiken. He did not hesitate, but fired at once upon his father's antagonist, who fell dead.

A Norwegian Sailor's Tragic Death.

Savannah, Ga., Jan. 1.—The Norwegian bark Piazza, which arrived at quarantine yesterday, brought the body of Fareand Toleson, a young sailor, who on Friday fell from the mizzen rigging during a gale at sea and was instantly killed. His head struck a deck house and the skull was crushed. His father, the ship's carpenter, witnessed the fatal fall. The body was buried here, wrapped in a Norwegian flag.

A VERY HAPPY OCCASION.

The Greensboro Lumber Company Treats Its Men to a Supper at Gresham's.

The Greensboro Lumber Company set a very fine example in inviting all their employees to a holiday dinner at The Huffines. Such a spread as this popular house always makes was given. Afterwards the men assembled at the office of the company and were addressed by Mr. Stivers, in a very happy spirit. He outlined to some extent the plans for the future, and assured the employees of the company of his interest in their welfare.

Replies were made by Messrs. Shell, Foster and Causey, expressive of appreciation and gratitude for the very generous manner in which the men had been treated all through the past year.

If more such were done the perplexing problem in the adjustment of labor and capital would be more thoroughly and effectually settled.

A Curious Effect of the New York Shake Up.

Mr. L. M. Scott returned this morning from spending the holidays with his daughter in Orange, N. J., just across the river from New York. Mr. Scott says that the people are talking of the shake up in politics occasioned by the action of Governor Roosevelt in dismissing District Attorney Gardner, and the report that Philbin, Roosevelt's appointee, will dismiss all the assistants, contrary to the first statement. If he does this, Assistant Attorney Jas. W. Osborne, formerly of this state, will go with the others. It is said that this will result in the acquittal of the famous Molinieux. The case is now hung up on appeal. If a new trial is granted, it is said that no one can retry the case as Mr. Osborne did, and consequently no conviction can be made. Mr. Scott heard the trial of this interesting case last year.

Euterpe Club Recital Friday Afternoon.

It is to be hoped that a large and enthusiastic audience will assemble at the McAdoo House parlors at four o'clock next Friday afternoon to give encouragement to the efforts of the Euterpe Club to present high-class matinee musical recitals before the people of Greensboro.

This next entertainment will be a song recital in which Mr. Wesley White and Miss Lucy Glenn will render an attractive program in addition to which some classic piano numbers will be given by members of the club. Price of tickets will be 35 cents which can be secured from the members of club or at the door of the parlors.

The entertainment will begin promptly at four o'clock.

Dog-Killer Bound Over.

The trial of Mr. Robert Holden, for cruelty to animals, for the shooting of Mr. Luke Glascock's dog on Monday, came off before Squire Pritchett yesterday. Mr. Holden was bound over to court in the sum of $50. Col. Barringer represented the prosecution and Judge J. G. Bynum the defence. The lawyers had quite a tussle over the question of whether a dog comes under the view of the statute. The magistrate decided that Col. Barringer took the right end of it, and bound the dog slayer over.

Young Ladies of the College Entertain.

The young ladies of Greensboro Female College entertained a few of their friends last night. It was an occasion of much pleasure, and time sped all too rapidly for the young folks. Only six girls remained at the College through the holidays this year, but they thoroughly enjoyed their vacation. Study hours were resumed today.

Mr. Perkins Dines the Bank People.

Following his example of last year, Mr. Perkins, proprietor of the McAdoo, invited the whole Greensboro National Bank force to dinner yesterday. It is entirely superfluous to say that they went, and enjoyed themselves "to the fullest."

A Surprise Party.

About twenty of our popular young people gave Miss Minnie Reid a surprise party at her home on West Market street last night. Although surprised, Miss Reid entertained the company charmingly.

CAPE COLONY IS DANGEROUS.

AND THE SITUATION IS GROWING HOURLY WORSE.

The Boers Have Adopted New Tactics Whereby They Suddenly Concentrate Their Forces on Weak Garrisons.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Cradock, (Cape Colony), Jan. 2.—A detachment of Boers entered Rooderhoek to the southward of Middelburg yesterday. It is believed that this force is going to Graaf and Steynsburg at Maraisburg. Large reinforcements have reached Middelburg. The Daily Mail declares the position of Cape Colony is most dangerous and the crisis is growing hourly graver. It calls urgently for the sending of reinforcements.

BOERS' NEW TACTICS.

Pretoria, Jan. 2.—The Boers are showing activity in many directions and have evidently adopted new tactics, whereby they concentrate their forces suddenly on isolated British garrisons. They attacked Meyerton yesterday, but were repulsed. The railway line was broken in several places yesterday.

Odell Recommends Sweeping Reforms.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Albany, Jan. 2.—Governor Odell's first message recommends sweeping reforms in state affairs, and charges gross abuses. He recommends a single police commissioner to act as chief in New York City.

The state treasury has received tax inheritances of over $4,000,000, an increase of $2,000,000. The legislature assembled at noon and heard the Governor's message. It organized promptly by the selection of nominees of the Republican caucus.

The governor tramples upon boss Platt's pet idea of a state constabulary. He says it is valueless.

Great Loss of Sheep and Cattle.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Walsenburg, Colo., Jan. 2.—The weather in this vicinity is the coldest in several years. The drop of the mercury was preceded by a snowstorm lasting several days. Reports of heavy losses of sheep have been received. One herd ranging east of this city lost 50 per cent. The sheep climbed on top of each other to escape the cold and snow, smothering those underneath. The loss of cattle is also reported.

SLASH IN SUGAR.

The Three Great Refining Companies Have Bucked Each Other to a Level.

By Wire to The Telegram.

New York, Jan. 1.—American Sugar Refining Company today reduced the price of all grades of refined sugars ten points. The National Sugar Refining Company cut five points, the price of both companies thus becoming uniform. Then Arbuckle Bros. announced a reduction to conform with the list of the American and National companies' prices.

Waldessee Overdoes the British.

By Wire to The Telegram.

London, Jan. 2.—Count Von Waldessee attended the British New Year's review in Pekin. He gave the royal salute, which led to cheering. This was in striking contrast to the action of the British officers, none of whom attended the German parade Christmas day.

Public Library Burned—Snow on Puget Sound.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Seattle, Jan. 2.—The Public Library of this city was burned to the ground last night. All books, the twenty-five thousand, valued at $20,000, were a total loss.

Change of Southern Railway Officers.

His resignation took effect yesterday. He is succeeded by Mr. W. H. Peddle, assistant general manager. Mr. R. B. Pegram is promoted from the Memphis division and made assistant general manager. Mr. H. E. Hutchens is transferred from the Norfolk division and made superintendent of the Memphis division.

Mr. A. Ramseur is appointed superintendent of the Norfolk division.

Mr. Hanna's Idea of the Country's Mistakes.

Congressman Atwater, who has been visiting the family of Rev. Dr. S. B. Turrentine, left for Washington at noon today. Mr. Atwater thinks the new century outlook for our country is fine. On the whole, he thinks Mr. McKinley has made a good President. The effect of the acquisition of our new territory, Mr. Atwater is inclined to believe, will be good for the South. In speaking of the South's future, the Congressman referred to an interesting conversation he once had with Mark Hanna. Mr. Hanna remarked that the two big mistakes this country had made was the war between the states, and the enfranchisement of the negroes.

Mr. Atwater left to be at the opening of Congress.

New York Gambling Houses Closed.

New York, Jan. 1.—The Evening Telegram today says: "With the end of the century Mayor Van Wyck took steps towards putting an end to gambling, and as a result practically every gambling resort in this city is closed today. The mayor ordered that this be done, and Chief of Police Devery promptly obeyed the mandate. He issued instructions to his captains last night and the keepers of the various establishments were given the tip that this time there was to be no fooling."

Evangelical Movement.

New York, Jan. 2.—A Twentieth Century "Gospel Campaign Commission," consisting of ministers and laymen, has been organized to promote evangelization meetings in every city, town or village in the United States. The Volunteer Organization of Christian Ministers and Laymen is backing the movement, and it is claimed that tidings of a christian awakening are coming in finely. A mass meeting was held on the last day of the last century which was addressed by leading divines of New York and Philadelphia, and it is now proposed to spread the influence of that meeting throughout the country. Next week will be observed as a week of prayer, and a series of noonday and evening prayer meetings will be held in this city and in all the other large cities of the country.

To Extend Good Roads.

Utica, N. Y., Jan. 2.—The people of this county are so much pleased with the highway improvement made under the Higbee-Armstrong law that the Board of Supervisors of Oneida county has passed a resolution asking the Legislature to appropriate $500,000 for highway improvements. If this is passed, as much more will be asked for by counties taking advantage of the act. The state roads made by prisoners are so superior that everybody favors them and wants them extended.

MORE OF THE CROWES.

POLICE GET HOLD OF THE KIDNAPERS.

J. J. Crowe Captured in Iowa, But Wont Talk—Pat Run Across in Dakota.

Omaha, Jan. 1.—The first arrest in the Cudahy kidnapping case has been made. J. J. Crowe, brother of Pat Crowe, whom the police believe to be a principal in the abduction, was taken into custody in Council Bluffs this afternoon by Omaha detectives and brought to this city. The warrant charges Crowe with the abduction of young Edward Cudahy on December 18. Crowe consented to accompany the officers across the river without the formality of requisition papers. Early this afternoon a posse with search warrants and complaints charging abduction, ransacked the premises adjacent to J. J. Crowe's saloon in the hope of discovering Pat Crowe in his place of concealment. They had the necessary papers for the arrest of both Pat and his brother. Early in the day, the police department had been given information that either Pat Crowe was making his hiding place in his brother's saloon, or the brother knew more than he would divulge about the kidnapping and the letter that has been recently written to Mr. Cudahy threatening the death of his son if the reward for the arrest of the kidnapers were not withdrawn. A diligent search disclosed no trace of Pat Crowe, but the officers came upon the brother asleep in a rear room.

They hastily awakened him and took away two huge bull dog pistols which he carried in his pockets. The man was first taken to the Council Bluffs station by Detective Weir, of the Iowa department, and then he was conducted across the river for an examination by Chief Donahue. When the information that Pat Crowe might be found in the saloon was given to Chief Donahue he detailed five detectives to make the arrests. The detectives separated before reaching Crowe's place and concealing their faces in the high collars of the overcoats, strolled one at a time over the sidewalk in front of the saloon. The building was quickly surrounded. When the detectives opened the doors of the saloon and the adjoining rooms, the inmates were taken by surprise, but there was no show of resistance. A woman of the household attempted to run to the room where Crowe lay asleep, but the officers blocked the way and entered first. So quiet had been the entry of the officers that Crowe had not been awakened. He was aroused and disarmed at the same time. In his rear pockets two huge revolvers were found, one in each hip pocket. Crowe rubbed his eyes as if he were dazed. "What do you want?" he demanded. "We are looking for you and Pat," was the response. "We want Pat most, but if we can't find Pat, we want to ask you a few questions."

Crowe took the situation complacently. "I'll do anything I can for you, gentlemen," he said, "but I tell you right now I can't do or tell much." While two of the detectives stood guard over Crowe until he put on heavy clothing for out of doors, the rest carefully examined the premises. Crowe's saloon is in the midst of an isolated cluster of buildings on the outskirts of the city. Crowe was escorted to the Council Bluffs police station by Detective Weir, who made the arrest. As Crowe consented readily to accompany the Omaha detectives to jail on the Nebraska side for an examination, he was only registered on the Council Bluffs jail books and then allowed to go with the detectives. On the book he was charged with being a fugitive from justice, arrested on the complaint of the Omaha detectives.

Crowe was closely questioned by the police tonight, but denied any knowledge of his brother's whereabouts or that he had anything to do with the kidnapping. The police expect to secure some valuable information about Pat Crowe and his recent doings.

The police here know nothing of the capture of Pat Crowe at Oelrich, S. D., and discredited the report.

PAT CROWE CAPTURED.

Sioux City, Ia., Jan. 1.—A special to The Journal from Chadron, Neb., says: "Pat Crowe, the supposed abductor of young Cudahy, has been captured near the State line between Nebraska and South Dakota. Three detectives following Crowe's trail came upon him in the Pine Ridge reservation, near Oelrichs, South Dakota, and captured him after a wild chase."

"Crowe was driving a team and buckboard. He whipped the horses and tried to outrun the horsemen, who soon brought him to a halt with their six-shooters. John Delfelder, a cattleman, has just reached town with the news and says the posse had stopped at a ranch about 30 miles out for lunch and to feed their horses."

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking spot, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity.

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

INVITED OUT AND MURDERED.

DEEP LAID PLOT WHEREBY A MAN KILLS A FORMER FRIEND.

A Virginia Man Shoots a Husband at the Latter's Own Door.

Suffolk, Va., Special to Phila. Record, 3 st.

In pursuit of a deep-laid plan of revenge, growing out of a quarrel over the payment of money, Henry Copeland today invited John Story to step outside his door for a friendly chat, then deliberately shot him to death in full view of his wife and children.

Copeland then sought to slay Charles Hill, a negro, who he believed was Story's friend, but Hill heard the shots and fled to the forest, staying there till Copeland was gone.

Sheriff Daker, his deputies, and all the constables in this county, together with Hurricane Branch, a detective with four bloodhounds, began the search for the murderer. Copeland was arrested this afternoon at Elwood. He made a full confession of the killing and was taken to the Suffolk jail.

Copeland and Story, formerly fast friends, became enemies. Subsequently Copeland was waylaid and assaulted with a club and he believed Story was the instigator. When he went to Story's home this morning the latter was hunting birds, but he returned, and chatted with his family till Copeland called to him in a friendly way to step outside the house for a private conversation.

Story approached within a few feet of Copeland and was shot twice in the head, one bullet passing through it.

When Copeland failed to find the negro Hill, he returned to finish Story, but found he was already dead. It was intended to leave Story's body where he fell until the coroner arrived, but the young wife was so horrified at seeing her husband dying out there in the road that they carried the body inside.

Capeland was about 35 years old and unmarried. Story was a few years younger.

The exchange of photos just previous to Miss Ray's departure resulted in mutual favor, and her many friends here hope to learn of a happy union.

Harriet—"Yes, that is what she told me she was going to do; she has been practicing it with Cousin Tom for ever so long."—Boston Transcript.

An English army surgeon in South Africa tells an amusing story of an Englishwoman of high rank who was engrossed by the charms of amateur nursing. One morning, on approaching the cot of a soldier to whom she had given special attention, she found him with his eyes tightly closed and a piece of paper pinned on the sheet, on which was written: "To ill to be nursed to-day. Respectfully, J. L."

SHEETS OF BREAD.

How the Staff of Life Is Prepared by Moki Women.

Proper Making of the Article Is Considered a Real Art Among the Female Portion of the Tribe.

If you wish to dine off a sheet of bread, you must go to the great American desert and ask the women of the Moki Indians to bake it for you. But if you are wise, you will not inquire too closely into the details of the process.

The preparation of the bread, in sheets hardly thicker than a sheet of paper, is a real art among the Moki women. A corner in the principal room is set aside for the accommodation of a shallow trough, walled in with slabs of stone set on end. The trough is divided into three compartments, and in these the first process of bread-making takes place.

When bread is to be made, a girl kneels behind each compartment. Shelled corn is then put on the flat stone in the first compartment, and with a coarse, oblong stone the first girl proceeds to rub it. The coarse meal thus prepared is passed on to the next compartment. Here it is again rubbed with a stone less coarse, and passed on to the third stage. The result is a decidedly floury meal.

With a brush which is made of dried grass bound together with a string of calico, and with which the flour is swept between times, the meal is then gathered up, and mixed with water to a thick batter.

Then comes in the art of the baker. She takes a single handful of the batter and spreads it over a long, flat stone, under which a fire has been for some time burning. The batter is made to cover thinly the entire surface.

When one side is baked she takes the bread by a corner and pulls it off dexterously, turning it the other side up. When it is done, a long, flat basket receives it, and the baker turns the edges up all round, so that the air can get at it. Sheet after sheet is baked until the basket is piled high with the blue bread, or "piki," which the baker pronounces "peka."

No salt is used in the batter, and the piki has a sweetish taste. It is usually blue, partaking of the color of the corn from which it is made. It is eaten dry or in a sort of soup. When the men go on a journey they take piki made into rolls, very much as one would roll up a sheet of wet paper, the bread being of about the same thickness as the paper.

The stones upon which the bread is baked are prepared by the old women of the tribe with great secrecy and much ceremony. They are very valuable, and are handed down as heirlooms from mother to daughter.

The first stage in the process, so says Popular Science News, is the smoothing and filling of the surface of the stone with hot pitch. It is then smoked and rubbed for many days, with an accompaniment of rude chanting. As far as a white man may know, the first rubbing is with a smooth stone, the next with pieces of wood, while the finishing work is done with bare hands. The result is a jet black, smooth surface, to which the piki does not stick in baking.

ROCKEFELLER FEUD BITTER.

Frank Removes His Children's Bodies from the Family Lot in Cemetery.

That the quarrel between Frank and John D. Rockefeller is extremely bitter and lasting was evidenced again by the action of Frank Rockefeller, when he had the bodies of his two children removed from the magnificent Rockefeller lot in Lakeview cemetery, Cleveland, O., and moved into a new lot which he recently purchased. The Cleveland friends of the famous millionaire brothers can place no other interpretation on Frank Rockefeller's action.

Over the family burial lot stands one of the finest granite monuments in the world, which cost an enormous sum of money, in addition to the small fortune spent in moving it to Cleveland and placing it in position. It consists of a single immense shaft of granite. Frank Rockefeller's friends say that he wanted the bodies of his dead removed because John Rockefeller had consulted no other members of the family when he designed and erected the monument.

The quarrel between the Rockefeller brothers began over money matters, chiefly mining stock transactions. It grew so violent that Frank Rockefeller and his family withdrew a year ago from the Euclid Avenue Baptist church because his brother was the most prominent and influential member. What especially angered Frank was that John Rockefeller, according to some members of the congregation, forced the retirement of Rev. H. D. Applegarth, his close friend, who is now pastor of the First Baptist church of Cambridge, Mass.

THE CHINESE OUTRAGED.

Newspaper readers have seen a good deal in late weeks about Chinese outrages. The fiendish slaughter of foreigners by the Celestials has been a fitting subject of horror to the people at home who are represented in China by the Christian armies. Perhaps the Chinese have also been outraged, but we fail too often to look at it from the other fellow's standpoint. In a speech at Montclair, N. J., a day or two ago, Mr. Wu, the Chinese representative at Washington, and one of the most skillful ministers of any nation ever there, said that the trouble was that the foreigners did not have enough respect and consideration for the customs and opinions of the Chinese. This is very much at the bottom of all trouble. It must be recollected that the yellow people of that vast country are ruled by, and worship a thousand sacred objects and traditions where we regard none. The staff correspondent of the New York Sun tells of the most unjust, unchristian, and debasing profanation of a sacred temple at Peking. This holy place is known to Chinamen as the "Temple of Heaven." So sacred is it that the Emperor himself visits it once a year and prostrates himself. The dispatch says:

The British officers are producing a burlesque in the Temple of Heaven, which is China's Holy of Holies. The play is characterized by wholesale ridiculing of Chinese royalty. Capt. Hamilton impersonates the Empress Dowager, who is made to sing topical songs and dance jigs. Here is a sample of Capt. Hamilton's lines:

"Think of me in this frosty weather posing as Venus among the heathen; think of me in the 'altogether' at my time of life."

At the end of the last act President Fane of the Prize Committee, who has been conducting the auction sales of British loot, sells the Empress Dowager at auction, describing her as "a fine old bit of rare China." He bids 50 cents for her, saying that he can use her as a lady's maid. He then appeals for bids for the honor of China. Capt. Parks of the Seventh Rajput Regiment, who impersonates Prince Tuan, bids $5 for the honor of China, whereupon the auctioneer calls:

"Going, going, gone—the honor of China—sold for $5. Prince Tuan, will you marry her?"

To this Prince Tuan replies: "Ugh, the Dowager of China is a royal personage. She is sacred."

Than this, we can scarcely conceive of a more heinous offence, because so uncalled for. Such conduct may well provoke the simple and superstitious people of the land to deeds of violence. It is touching those people in their most vital spot. Those engaged in it deserve severe punishment.

The report that Governor Russell will resign as Governor, be succeeded by the Lieutenant Governor, and by him appointed Chief Justice to fill the term of the late Judge Faircloth, is hardly probable. The Raleigh Post urges the Governor to carry out this plan on the ground that he is the most fit man in his party in the eastern part of the State, whence it is presumed the appointment must come, though why, we do not see. Were the Governor to do this from the best of motives he would never get credit for having done so.

"Quay Beaten" is the way the Philadelphia Record heads the report of the organization of the Pennsylvania Legislature. But when Quay was heard from it was found that Quay beat.

SERMON IN "THE STUMBLING BLOCK."

Out in Toledo, Ohio, there is published a so-called religious paper called the "Stumbling Block." It preaches what many people believe to be thoroughly needed now. By way of the Washington Post we get this sample of the "Stumbling Block's" style:

"Think of it, backsliders; not a thousand or a million years in hell, but Eternity in Hell! Everlasting burnings. Think of it! Think of it! 'Formal professor, think of Eternity in Hell. You, too, will get into hell unless you watch and pray and keep humble and pure.

"Dishonest grocery men, drygoods men, and whisky selling druggists, with all whisky makers, whisky drinkers, and whisky voters, will find an Eternity in Hell unless they stop it repent and get to God.

"Fathers and mothers, if you are not converted to God and His Bible and using your best endeavors to lead your children to God and Heaven, you will spend an Eternity in Hell.

"Tellers of black and white lies are running with all their might to a lake of fire and brimstone, and will spend their Eternity in Hell unless they repent."

The Post remarks that this is hot stuff, and we are inclined to think that it will not be disputed. It is vigorous enough for the most exacting. One of the changes of the past century is that such sermons are not now preached to any considerable extent.

Mr. Cleveland's opinion of the World, and Mr. Cleveland's opinion in the World, are two different propositions. And both may have abundant justification without any conflict of authority.—Raleigh Post.

Quite evident. But nothing in Mr. Cleveland's actions heretofore led one to think that he is a man who would confer an undoubtedly great favor on a paper by thus recognizing it as worthy his patronage, when that paper's conduct heretofore had been so flagrant towards him as to compel him to stigmatize it as a common liar. Yes, the old man has forgotten, or changed.

A Nephew of Cardinal Gibbons Killed by Highwaymen.

New Orleans, Jan. 1.—Dr. James Gibbons, one of the ambulance students of the Charity Hospital and a nephew of Cardinal Gibbons, died today of wounds received last night. He was on his way home at midnight last night when two men attempted to rob him. Before he could comply with the demand to throw up his hands he was shot in the groin. Dr. Gibbons pursued the men, who ran, not knowing he was wounded, but the loss of blood caused him to desist. A cousin, discovering his plight, took him to the hospital. No trace of the murderers has yet been found, although Dr. Gibbons gave a fair description of them before he died.

ADMISSION TO WEST POINT.

Superintendent Recommends That Standard of Educational Requirements Be Raised.

Col. A. L. Mills, superintendent of the military academy at West Point, has made his annual report to the adjutant general.

He devotes the greater part of his report to an earnest plea for the elevation of the standard of admission to West Point, to which end he suggests that the secretary of war be empowered to prescribe these requirements. He lays particular stress upon the fact that the entrance examinations at present correspond closely to the educational qualifications of pupils of the public schools just emerging from the primary grades. According to the commissioner of education, pupils of an average age of 14½ years in the public schools have these qualifications. Yet the average age of the applicant to West Point is above, and boys at that time of life should be equipped with high school education, including subjects which are not now a part of the entrance examination at West Point but which should be in the future. The superintendent says it would be in every way advantageous to have the relations between arithmetic and algebra and geometry made the same as now exists in the public schools. There is no desire that the entrance examinations should be made more difficult, but only that it should require what the public schools of the country supply.

AMERICAN COAL IN LEAD.

Col. W. P. Rend Says Countries of Europe Must Look to This Country for Future Supplies.

Col. W. P. Rend has returned to Chicago from a two months' visit to Europe, confident that the nations of the old world will have to look to this country more and more for their coal supplies, and with a firm belief that the great natural resources of this country are certain to give it a steadily increasing prominence in the markets of the world.

"There is no doubt that American coal is to be in steadily increasing demand in Europe," he said. "The demand is there now, and there is a ready market for every pound of our coal. The English coal fields are becoming so difficult and expensive to work that it is impossible for that country successfully to compete with our coal much longer. Prices of coal there have doubled within the last 18 months, and so alarmed have the English people become at this condition, which carries with it a most serious menace to their steel and iron manufacturers, that leading English papers are advocating an export tax on coal in order to prevent the exhaustion of the supply and to protect their iron and steel makers from the further encroachments of the American makers."

WEDDED A SECOND TIME.

Aged Couple Separated for Thirty Years Reunited—A Romantic Affair.

A Kansas City special to a Toledo (O.) paper says: "Matthias Stephanz, aged 55 years, of Toledo, O., and Mary Stephanz, aged 55 years, of this city, were married the other day by Probate Judge Snyder, of Kansas City, Kan., in his office in the courthouse. There is an interesting bit of romance connected with the marriage of this aged couple. The union makes the second time that their lives have been linked together as man and wife, their first wedding taking place in Ohio 33 years ago.

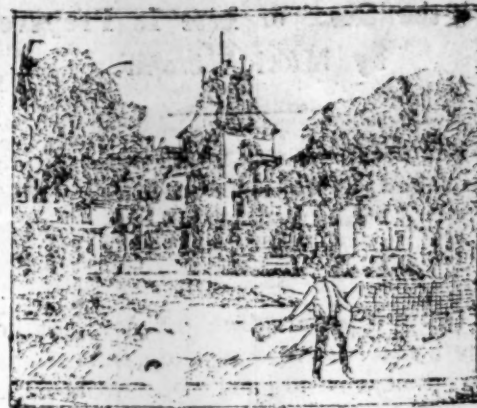

"Three years after their first marriage they separated, Mrs. Stephanz coming out west and making her home with relatives in this city. Ten years ago they were divorced, and Mr. Stephanz soon after became the husband of another Toledo woman. She died shortly after the marriage, and it was then that Mr. Stephanz sought reconciliation with his first wife. A correspondence began which terminated the other day in their marriage in the Kansas metropolis. Mr. Stephanz left the same night for Toledo, where they will make their future home."

Obedient.
"Bessie," said a mother to her four-year-old daughter, "did you peel your apple as I told you to before eating it?"
"Yes, mamma," replied Bessie.
"And what did you do with the peeling?" asked her mother.
"Oh," replied the little miss, "I ate that afterward."—Boston Journal.

JUDGE FAIRCLOTH'S WILL MAKES THIS PROVISION FOR B. F. U.

Not Yet Stated Whether It is for a Specific Purpose or for General Purposes.

Raleigh Post.
Greensboro, Jan. 1.—It was given out privately today, but upon trustworthy authority, that the will of the late Chief Justice W. T. Faircloth contains a clause giving $20,000 to the Baptist Female University in Raleigh. It was not stated whether the gift is to be applied to some special purpose or to go into the general fund of the institution.

Assuming, in the absence of information to the contrary, that Judge Faircloth's bequest is an unconditional gift to the college, it is understood that it will be available for extinguishment of the college debt. It was stated at the Baptist Tabernacle watch night service Monday night that there was a debt of $45,000 hanging over the college. If Judge Faircloth's benefaction may be used for reducing this incumbrance it will lift nearly one-half of the incubus at once and make the task of completing the good work one of completing the work one of comparative ease to the Baptist people of the State, who will feel encouraged to make a supreme effort to clear the college of debt before the meeting of the State convention next December. Indeed it would not be surprising should the entire debt be wiped out before commencement. The Baptists are determined to get rid of the incumbrance, and they know no such word as fail when they make up their minds to do anything.

Charles R. Flint's Arrow, under contract to be the fastest ship ever designed, was launched the other day at the ship yard in Nyack, N. Y. It has been built under a guarantee by its designer of 42 miles an hour, and it is expected that under pressure it will be able to make 50. It has been generally given out that the boat was constructed as a yacht for Mr. Flint's personal use, but rumors have been persistent that it was built under contract with one of the South American governments for service as a torpedo boat.

The plans, so far as they have been made public, show the vessel fully equipped for torpedo service.

The Arrow will go in tow to Newark, N. J., where shafting and engines will be put in. The yacht's destination after it has been fitted out at Newark has not been pronounced.

GIRL SCARED TO DEATH.

Practical Jokers Have Fatal Fun with a Manufactured Skeleton.

The authorities of Allegany county are looking for persons who manufactured a skeleton out of bones of domestic animals, which frightened Mary Oldfield, of Karndale, near Rochester, N. Y., to death the other night. Miss Oldfield, accompanied by two friends, was returning from a Halloween party, where they had listened to ghoulish stories until their hair stood on end.

When about to enter the woods a rattling of bones was heard overhead and looking up the trio were overcome with horror to see a skeleton of gigantic proportions sweeping down on them from above. With a cry of terror Mary dropped in her tracks. A searching party found a wire leading from the ground to a tree top to which the skeleton was attached by a pulley.

Pointed Picturesqueness.

A Missouri editor thinks it quite sad to see a young husband supporting a scolding wife on a huskrat salary. For pointed picturesqueness of expression, says the Denver Post, the Missouri rural editor takes the corn pone.

There are good reasons for believing, says the Chicago Times-Herald, that the lawyers all over our broad land are glad the man who stole $700,000 was caught and will be tried.

To the Public:—A large number of the best business people insured in the Aetna Life Insurance Company at the low prices, for 1900, which ended last week, and now hold policies in one of the best companies at a lower rate than can be gotten in the future.

Those who said "not today—see me tomorrow," have lost a golden opportunity by trusting that old and renowned thief—procrastination. You would better take hold promptly when the Aetna Band Wagon passes your way again. W. W. Wood will handle the reins again next year. If you get aboard he will land you safely on the twentieth century new policies and new prices that will be up-to-date in all respects.

To the many policy holders who favored him with their business in the year now closed he is profoundly grateful and congratulates them upon having written on the low rates in the old century.

He now invites the public attention to the new policies, the new year, and the new century, wishing abundant and abiding prosperity to all mankind.

The most soothing, healing and antiseptic application ever devised is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It relieves at once and cures piles, sores, eczema and skin diseases. Beware of imitations. Howard Gardner.

RHEUMATISM—CATARRH—DISEASES CURED BY B. B. B.

It is the deep-seated, obstinate cases of catarrh and rheumatism that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) cures. It matters not what other treatments, doctors, sprays, liniments, medicated air, blood purifiers, have failed to do, B. B. B. always promptly reaches the real cause and roots out and drives from the bones, joints, mucous membrane, and entire system the specific poison in the blood that causes rheumatism and catarrh. B. B. B. is the only remedy strong enough to do this and cure and so there can never be a return to the symptoms. Don't give up hope, but try B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) or 3 Bs.

For sale by druggists and Howard Gardner, in Greensboro, at $1 per large bottle, or 6 large bottles (full treatment) $5. To prove our faith in B. B. B. we will send a trial bottle free to sufferers, so they may test the remedy at our expense. Address Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga.

GOOD ADVICE.

The most miserable things in the world are those suffering from dyspepsia and liver complaint. More than seventy-five per cent. of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects: such as sour stomach, sick headache, habitual constiveness, palpitation of the heart, heart-burn, waterbrash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the stomach, yellow skin, coated tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits, etc. Go to your druggist and get a bottle of August Flower for 75 cents. Two doses will relieve you. Try it. Get Green's Prize Almanac. Grissom & Fordham.

Pepsin in preparations often fail to relieve indigestion because they can digest only albuminous foods. There is one preparation that digests all classes of food, and that is Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It cures the worst cases of indigestion and gives instant relief, for it digests what you eat. Howard Gardner.
